CALLEN CINCIPLE (S): activities to untangle change

9.30 - 16.30 Wednesday, 3 October 2012 The Building Centre, London

This team-based event will challenge participants to think, do and refect on the issue of adaptability through a series of discussion exercises, design problems and presentations. The activities will explore the following questions:

01 thinking

What is adaptability?

What is (and isn't) adaptable?

What do people say about adaptability?

02 doing

How do you interpret the need for adaptability?

How does the building respond to this need?

How do changes escalate?

03 reflecting

Why did you design it that way?

What are the costs and benefits?

How would you do it differently next time?
